

Tim Moore is a lawyer with the following qualifications:

- Appointed Senior Commissioner of the Land and Environment Court of New South Wales on 12 March 2009.
- Commissioner of the Land and Environment Court (appointed November 2002)
- Bachelor of Laws (UNSW) 1977
- Graduate Diploma in Planning (UTS) 2008
- Former member of the NSW Legislative Assembly for the Electorate of Gordon between 1976-1992
- Former Minister for the Environment 1988-1992
- Former Executive Director of the NSW Master Builders Association 1992-1993
- Former Assistant Secretary, Department Prime Minister and Cabinet and Secretary to the Council for Aboriginal Reconciliation 1993-1996
- Practiced as a barrister in the areas of planning and environment law, commercial and corporations law and building disputes 1997-2002